PROFILE

I am a motivated second-year B.Tech CSE student specializing in web development with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and React.js. My internship experience has honed my ability to create dynamic user interfaces. Currently, I am enhancing my problem-solving skills through Data Structures and Algorithms. I aim to leverage my expertise to develop responsive web applications that deliver exceptional user experiences.

OBJECTIVE

Motivated front-end developer eager to collaborate with startups and established companies to transform creative ideas into engaging web experiences. Committed to delivering high-quality results through effective design and development, from concept to execution.
